President Cleveland Has Not Relected His Church-Stevenson Artenda Bervices.

Washington, March 12.—If President Cleveland has selected his church home in Washington he gave no evidence of that choice today. He did not attend divine worship, but spent the morning quietly resting from the arduous duties of his first week in office. Some attention was paid to matters of pressing importance, and Private Secretary Thurber remained in the office the better part of the day. A little after 3 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland went for a drive and for more than one hour enjoyed the beauty of a day that was perfect. Vice President Stevenson, accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, attended the morning service at the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, which is the same they attended during the previous democratic administration. Mr. Stevenson has not yet selected a pew, but today occupied that of Mr. Noble Larned. In the afternoon, accompanied by Judge Lawrence, of the court of claims, and Mr. Lewis Stevenson, his son, the vice president took an extended stroll. This evening he received a number of calls from personal friends.

HENRY GEORGE IN ST. LOUIS.

HENRY GEORGE IN ST. LOUIS.

The Single Tax Club Gives Him a Reception a-St. Louis, March 12.—A reception was given to Henry George in the parlor of the Southern hotel yesterday under the direction of local leaders of the single tax club. In a brief speech, Mr. George thanked those present for their appreciation of his labors. Just after this recention an institution was received from this reception an invitation was received from President Anderson, of the Merchants Ex-change, for Mr. George to visit the exchange. He compiled with the request and was intro-duced at the exchange by Captain Thomas Booth. He declined an invitation to speak on the ground that business could not spare the time to hear his theories. He said he did not regard it as the proper time and place

A BISHOP TO BE REMOVED

Is the Object of Monsignor Satolli's Visit to St. Louis, March 12.-Information has been St. Louis, March 12.—Information has been received here, from an authoritative source, that Monsignor Satolil, the papal legate, will go to Lincoln, Neh., after Easter, and the result of his western visit will be the removal of Rev. Thomas Bonacul, bishop of Lincoln. For several years, it is said, there has been disaffection among the priests of his diocese, and this has finely culturated to a petition to Monsignor Satolil, asking that the bishop be removed. What the charges are is not definitely known, but they are reported to be sufficiently serious to justify the legate in granting the petition.

Has Nothing to Say.

Has Nothing to Say. Lincoln, Neb., March 12.—Bishop Bonacum was shown the dispatch from St. Louis, saying that Archbishop Satolii contemplated to visit this place in April to bring about the transfer of Bishop Bonacum to Cueyenne. The bishop would neither confirm or deny the report. Prominent Catholies, however, say that his removal is probable, owing to disagreements with his priests and disastisfaction on the part of the laity with his course.

SAM HOUSTON'S HEIRS.

Suing for Valuable Property in Houston, Houston, Tex., March 12.—The heirs of Sam Houston, "Father of Texas," after whom this city is named, entered suit yesterday against the holders of a block of ground, fronting the market, one of the most valuable blocks in the city, worth $600,000. The suit also included accrued rentals of $300,000 or more, None of the Houston heirs live in this city. The son, ex-Senator Temple Houston, is managing the case for the heirs, some twenty in number.

Will He Be Herbert's Assistant ?

Will He Be Herbert's Assistant?

Philadelphia, March 12.—A report that Lewis Nixon, a member of the government works at the Cramp shipyards, is spoken of as assistant secretary of the navy, brought this statement from Mr. Cramp: "Mr. Nixon would undoubtedly make a very efficient assistant secretary of the navy, as he is in every way qualified for such a position. It is very doubtful in my mind, however, if Mr.
Nixon would accept the place if tendered him, and I may further say he is entirely too big a man, and is withal better fixed."

John Murphy's Will.

Lockport, N. Y., March 12.—The will of the late John Murphy, who bequeathed all his property, valued at $30,000, to Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, will come up for probate on Monday. No opposition is anticipated, although there are a number of nieces and nephews of the deceased in Niagara county. Rumor has it that Murphy had a wife and child in Canada, but they have not made their appearance. A provision of the collateral inheritance tax law exempts Bishop Ryan from paying the tax. John Murphy's Will.

It Was Premature.

Washington, March 12.—The estement that the society of the Daugaters of the American Revolution had voted to exclude collateral descendants is at least premature. The question is to be submitted for discussion to all chapters during the present year and the man vote will be taken at the next congress, in February, 1894. During the coming year such applicants will be accepted as they have been heretofore.

Chattanogra, Teun., March 12.—The Tennessee legislature has an important measure to insurance companies before it. An act has already passed two readings requiring a deposit with the state treasurer by insurance companies doing business in the state. The act was before the senate on a third reading Saturday and provoked much discussion. It was finally referred back to the finance committee to submit the act amended so as to require the deposit in state bonds or some other Tennessee investment. Must Make a Deposit

Hamlin Will Get a Scoretaryahip.

Boston, Mass., March 12.—The Hersin states on the authority of Assistant Secretary Quincy that there is no doubt whatever that Mr. Charles S. Hamlin will be made assistant secretary of the treasury. Indeed, Mr. Quincy would not accept his own appointment except on the condition that his selection should not interfere with Mr. Hamlin's preferment to the position which he is so well fitted to fill acceptably. Hamlin Will Get a Secretaryship.

Corea's Commissioner Coming. Corea's Commissioner Coming.

Washington, March 12.—The Corean legation is informed by cable, from Seol, that the newly appointed royal commissioner to the world's Columbian exposition, in Chicago, has started for this country and the exhibits have been shipped to San Francisco. The royal commissioner, Jeung Klung Won, is of high rank in the Corean government, and is accompanied by many attaches.

Where Is the Rush Going? Where Is the Rush Going?
San Francisco, March 12.—The revenue cutter Rush is lying in stream with banked fires and ready to sail. It is reported that she has been ordered to abandon her proposed trip to San Diego and prepare for a 2,500 mile, two months voyage immediately. Her destination is surmised to be Honotulu. WILL REJECT THEM.

Governors of States

Among the Politicians in States Where Senators Have Been Appointed—The Cheyenne, Wyo., March 12.—Reliable advices from Wyoming democrats in Washington tonight are to the effect that the senatorial appointee, A. C. Beckwith, will not be elected. Now that the Washington legislature has adjourned without choosing a senator, there are two republican senators appointed and the democrats will therefore be losers by admitting Beckwith, as they must necessarily concede to Montana an Washington what the grant to Wyoming. It is claimed by those high in the council Wyoming democrats, that Governor Osborne has been appraised by all these circumstances, and in fact that the gov ernor is in constant communication with Senator Gorman and the other member the democratic steerage committee. The governor, therefore, will be advised that an extra session is necessary for the purpose of electing a successor to Senator Warren. The best informed in Cheyenne question constitutional rights of the governor and that is said to account for the governor trip to Denver two days ago. He is sai to have gone to consult his legal adviser. Hon. Thomas M. Patterson. It is hoped here by both democrats and republicans that an extra session of the legislature will be called, for the legislature adjourned un-expectedly with a lot of legislation on hand An extra session would enable the legis-lators to dress up their blunders, and pla-

What Senator Gorman Says.

What Senator Gorman Says.

Seattle, Wash., March 12.—A democrat of prominence in this city announced today that he was in receipt of a letter from Senator Gorman, of Maryland, stating that the democratic senate would not seat any senator appointed by any governor of any state. This would prevent ex-Senator Allen, recently appointed by Governor McGraw, from taking his seat, and the state of Washington will have only one United States senator for the next two years.

JUDGE DUBOSE'S IMPEACHMENT.

How the Legislature of Tennessee Will Pre

Nashyille, Tenn., March 12.—(Special.)—The special committee appointed yesterday to consider the resolution impencing Judge Dubose, of Shelby county, will meet tomorrow night, and is expected will, without delay report it back to the house with the recommendation that it be adopted. The resolution will then be adopted by the house. Under the constitution the house impeaches and the senate will try the case with the supreme justice of the state prewith the supreme justice of the state pre-siding. A two-thirds vote is necessary to convict. The house will appoint three of its members to prosecute, but the trial can-

S. Cummins and Malone & Malone, of Memphis, and Judge J. M. Dickenson and R. McPhail Smith, of Nashville.

Tascar DuBose, son of the judge, is here. The house has over one hundred bilis on third reading. The penitentiary bill will come up in the senate tomorrow, and in the house Wednesday.

The house committee on public grounds and buildings has decided against the proposition to purchase the Polk place for a gubernatorial mansion, but will probably recommend the removal of the remains of President and Mrs. Polk to the tomb on the capitol grounds. the capitol grounds.

A PETTICOAT MAY RULE.

As Mayor of Kansas City-Mrs. Potter a Candidate.

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Mrs. Annie Potter, of Kansas City., Kas., in a formal card to the public yesterday announced her-self as an independent candidate for mayor of that city. She is the wife of Ell Potter, a prominent insurance agent. Her candidacy is the outcome of a meeting of thirty women, is the outcome of a meeting of thirty women, all of whom have registered and are entitled to vote. A house to house canvass is to be made. Every woman in the city will be urged to register and vote. Foreign born women will be asked to become naturalized citizens. There will be no color line. There will be no partisanship. Democratic, republican and populist women will join arms and vote together for the common cause. More meetings have been arranged and a mighty effort will be made to elect a woman mayor.

To Remove California's Capital.

Sacramento, Cal., March 12.—The state legislature last evening passed through both houses a resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment removing the capital to San Jose, providing the latter city shall deed to the state ten acres of land and a bonus of $1,000,000. The action, though hasty, appears to have been earnest.

An All-Night Session.

Topeka, Kan., March 12.—The legislature did not adjourn last night. The session lasted until 2 o'clock this morning. Final adjournment will be had tomorrow. Several important laws were passed. One makes it illegal to require a gold contract in notes, mortgages and other obligations and makes silver as well as gold a legal tender for all debts in Kansas. An All-Night Session.

Mrs. Miller's Triplets

Mrs. Miller's Triplets.

Cold Springs, N. Y. March 12.—The many admirers of Mrs. Ellsworth Miller, who holds the world's record in the matter of multiple child bearing, will be gratified to learn that she has just presented her husband with triplets—two boys and a girl. This bringsher record for triplets up to three sets, and her total up to sixteen. She was married on October 10, 1883, nine years and five months ago, and is now thirty-one years old. She has seven living children, including the three whom she has just borne.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.—Mr. Stitt, of the wool firm of Stitt & Co., which assigned yesterday, refuses to be interviewed. The limbilities are not yet known, but it is thought they will foot up about $1.250,000. Just what the assets will amount to is a matter of surmise, but it is believed they will be comparatively small, as they consist, it is said, of interests in the Camden mills. A statement will be made in a few days.

New York, March 12.—A dozen steamships arrived in port today and 2,170 immigrants, mostly Italians, were landed at Ellis island. Several of the steamships had to be held over until tomorrow. None of the steamars sighted the Narconic.

United States Senators Appointed by Totten Says the Trumpet Will Blow

He Says He Is Confident His Predictions Are Correct

AND THERE IS CONSEQUENTLY A STIR BUT IT IS NOT THE LAST DAY.

He Says the Seventh Angel of Revelations
Will Shortly Announce the Reign of Peace on Earth by H'3 Trumpet.

New York, March 12.-In speaking of his work, Professor Totten stated today in an interview that he had not a shadow of a doubt as to the accuracy of his chronological work, nor as to its particular accura within the necessary personal qualifications of all humane efforts. The report maintains that we are actually in the midnight hour specified in the parable of the "Ten Virgins." "The clock," said the professor, is still striking. The tenth stroke will end its sounding at the coming March equinox of the current year.

"After that none of the 'Virgins' need be in further doubt as to the 'time,' or as what or who is at hand."

"Many facts," he continued, "assure me that we are at the midnight hour of the that we are at the midnight hour of the Christian dispensation, and I am sure that the seventh angel of the Savior's revelation to St. John is soon to sound the seventh and final trumpet, which lifts the veil from the mystery of God, but which is not to be confused with the 'final trump,' as commonly understood. In spite of misrepre sentations to the contrary, I do not anticipate the end of the world, but the beginning of a new and better dispensation. I anticipate a crisis 'tomorrow' and the millenium 'the day after.' I expect the first resurrec-tion very soon, but not the second until a thousand years of golden age have sped by Madame Cottu's testimony yesterday not shate. The movement to propagat the opinion that she was animated by a desire to avenge the sentence of her hus-band when she gave her evidence against the government, has failed completely. The Gauters publishes an interview with her, in which she says that she was actuated merely by a determination to tell the truth, regardless of pensonal interest or domestic

M. Soinoury, the police official who tried to get from Madame Cotta documents compromising the royalist deputies, has resigned from the directorship of the penitentiary department. Police Commissioner Nicolle, department. Police Commissioner Nicolle, who arranged the interview between him and Madame Cottu will be dismissed. Deputy Despers has given notice that he will interpolate the government in the chamber of deputies as to Madame Cottu's evidence. In the senate M. Morris will make a similar interpellation.

This afternoon several ministers called upon M. Bourgeois, but when the cabinet reassembled this even M. Ribot announced that M. Bourgeois had been deaf to all argument and had insisted that he would not return to office.

argument and man insisted that he would not return to office.

Subsequently at M. Ribot's request the president signed a decree giving to M. Develle temporarily M. Bourgeois's portfolio.

Henry Brissen insists upon his retirement the regulators of the parliamentary.

Henry Brisson insists upon his retirement from the presidency of the parliamentary commission of inquiry into the Panama scandal. His principal reason for resigning, he repeats, is the weakness of his health. The ministers are awaiting with intense anxiety the event of M. Bourgeois's appearance on the witness stand tomorrow. The general conviction is that M. Soinoury would never have taken the step he took without the consent of the cabinet, and perhaps of Carnot. The developments of tomorrow are awaited with feverish expectancy. The excitement of today has not been exceeded since the beginning of the Panama disclosure. It is thought that only good luck can save the Ribot ministry.

DESCRIBING THE LINE

Between the Republics of Chile and Bolivia.

Between the Republics of Chile and Bollvia.

Valparaiso, March 12.—It has been officially announced that the Chilean minister of foreign affairs has signed a treaty with the Bolivian minister describing the territorial limits of the two republics, thus settling the old boundary dispute. A point was gained by Minister Errazuriz on behalf of Chile under which the line of demarcation includes in Chilean territory water sources which have been claimed by Argentina.

A conference was held in Santiago yesterday between Dr. Errazuriz, minister of foreign affairs, and the minister from Argentina in regard to the appointment of a commission to settle the boundaries between Chile and Argentina. Maps were produced by each side showing territorial limits claimed, especially exhibiting the river sources, the line along the Cordilleras and other points under discussion. It was resolved to begin the work of surveying the lines in October next.

Spanish Election.

Spanish Election Madrid, March 12.—The official election returns show that the opposition in congress will consist of forty-eight conservatives under Canovas Del Castillo; seventeen conservatives under Senor Silvela; twenty-three advanced republicans and six Carlists. The government has the support of 322 deputies. Several changes in the cabinet are impending.

RIVER TRAFFIC BLOCKED By the Breaking of the Ice-Bridges Carried

Omaha. Neb., March 12.—The ice is still running in the Platte and Elkhorn rivers and as a result traffic is generally blocked. At Ashland last night a portion of the Burlington bridge, over the Platte, was carried away just after the enstbound flyer had passed. Today the Missouri Pacific bridge over the Platte at LaPlatte is in great danger.

While cutting away a log that was jammed against a pier. Ed Bury fell into the water. Andrew Roland tried to rescue Bury, but was swept away with him and both men were drowned in sight of the gang. I laborers, who were unable to render assitance.

Pilods in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, March 12.—Reports received tonight from the various sections of the western part of the state threatened by floods show an abatement from the danger of a freshet in some places, and in others the condition of the swollen rivers remains dangerous. In one instance, the waters burst their banks, and inundated a town. From Port Deposit, Md., comes a story of a night of anxiety followed by a day of flooded streets and houses. An ice gorge at Conowingi, a few miles above Port Deposit, was holding in check a great volume of water. The breaking of this gorge was dreaded, and when alght came on hundreds of people througed the banks of the river and watched for the gorge to break, while the rain came down in torrents. At 2 o'clock the gorge gave way and the flood let loose, swept down and apread through Port De-

Lyons, Mich., March 12.—Heavy jams of ice have been passing here all this afternoon and at 5 o'clock one end of the dam gave out. A large force of men, by quick work, saved the whole dam from going, but small breaks are constantly occurring. It is now hoped that the greatest danger is over, as the ice is now rotten and less apt to gorge. The river has gradually assumed its regular course and at 10 o'clock touight is begins to look as if the worst was past.

Now for the Flor Fonda, N. Y. March 12.—There is a general thawing in Mohawk valley, the small streams are greatly swollen, and the river is high In nearly every village in the valley the cel-lars are filled with water.

PUZZLING THE PHYSICIANS.

The Strange Case of a Negro in Hel Ark., March 12.—Daniel McKe

Helena, Ark., March 12.—Daniel McKell, a young colored man of this county, is puzzing the physicians of this vicinity. About a year ago, while having an epileptic fit, he fell into an open fireplace, and when found, he was lying in the fire in an unconscious condition. His scalp, the muscles of his head and the bones of the left side, as well as the tissues covering the left shoulder were parched. He was in an unconscious condition for two days and recollected no incident happening prior to his regaining consciousness. The bone and fiesh were burned from his head to such an extent that the pulsation of the brain could be felt. Very little medical attention was given him, only household remedies being applied. The burn removed one-half of the skull.

Now, after a year, the bony substance of the skull is being reconstructed and bids fair to completely heal, making an almost new bony covering for the brain. His mind is clear and he does the work of an ordinary farm hand. He was before the medical society of this county at a convention. The case has no parallel in surgery, so far as known by the medical authorities.

SWALLOWED AN ORANGE SEED, and Now He Is Dangerously Ill-An Opera-tion to Be Performed.

New Haven, Conn., March 12.—George M. Mills, of Cincinnati, O., a member of the senior class at Yale, is lying dangerously ill at the Yale infirmary. Last week he swallowed an orange seed and has suftered intensely since then. A delicate operation will have to be performed to remove the offending particle. Mills is one of the leading scholars of the senior class.

Long Branch, N. J., March 12.—Fully 10,-000 people were today at the scene of the wrecked steamer Wells City, of Bristol, Cap-tain Savage, which went ashore here last night in a heavy fog, between Seabright and Long Branch, and which lies in a good posi-tion about 150 yards from the beach. Nearly all the crew, when taken off, was in an ex-hausted condition.

Boston, Mass., March 12—The body of Henry Turner, an employe of the Jaguith Company, and who has already been included in the list of dead by Friday's fire, was found today, terribly mutilated and was identified by means of a ring that he wore. The body of C. T. Ordion has not yet been recovered. The condition of the injured remains about the same as yesterday. A force of men have been working on the ruins and their movements have been watched by a large crowd of sightseers. Taken from the Ruins

Midland, Mich., March 12.—Fred Lasure, with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Hattle Sullivan, both of this place, were drowned a short distance from here today. He was driving along the road and tried to cross a ravine, which on account of the overflow of the river was full of water. The buggy, however, sank and its two occupants were drowned, after a desperate struggle to reach the bank.

Burning of a Breaker. Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 12.—The west end braker, operated by the West End Coal Compraker, operated by the West End Conf Com-pany, was destroyed by fire this morning. Nearly three hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment for an indefinite time. The origin of the fire is supposed to be incendiary. The loss is estimated at $40,-000; partially insured.

Natural Gas Caused It. Pittsburg, Pa., March 12.—Esaping natural gas in the conduits of the Central District Telephone Company, on Market street, caused a terrific explosion about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Every pane of glass in nearly every building between First and Third avenues were broken, but fortunately none were injured.

Fell Between the Cars.

Gadsden, Ala., March 12.—(Special.)—J. O. Clifton, of Cedar Bluff, Cherokee county, received injuries today which caused his death. He was very drunk and, in attempting to board the Bome and Decatur train at this place, fell headlong between two passenger coaches, receiving injuries, from which he died in three hours. Three ribs and his collarbone were broken, his face badly bruised and internally injured. No blame is attached to the railroad company.

Nearly Suffocated by Gas. White Plains, N. Y. March 12.—Mrs. Moses Miller, sixty-eight years old, and Mrs. Ann Julian, sixty years old, two well-to-do sisters living in a fine house owned by Mrs. Miller on Central avenue, were found in bed this morning almost dead from asphyxiation from coal gas, which escaped from the stove. They are not expected to recover.

Burned to Death. Honesdale, Pa., March 12.—In a confiagra-tion at Seeleyville today, in which William Ryan's dwelling was destroyed, his brother-in-law, Thomas Kane, was burned to death. Mrs. Ryan was also badly burned in making her escape from the house.

Fire at Logansport, Ind.

Indianapolis, March 12.—A Logansport, Ind., special to The Sentinel, says fire today destroyed the dry goods store of Wiler & Wise. The stock was valued at $75,000. The building was damaged to the amount of $3,000. Insurance on the stock, $43,000.

SHE CONVINCED THEM.

Anna Eva Fay Shows the Newspaper Men That No Boy Is Hidden in Her Skirts. That No Boy Is Hidden in Her Skirts.

Chicago, March 12.—An attempt was made tonight to expose Anna Bva Fay, the young woman who claims that spirits will play guitars and other musical instruments, but the exposure did not expose. It was claimed by a morning paper that she had a small boy concealed in the train of her dress and that the youngster did the musical act and performed the spirit writings and wrappings, but she handled her skirts tonight in a way to show conclusively that there was no boy in the business; at least this was his night off, if there is.

Cause a Murder and Suicide in Quincy.

JOSEPH MASSEY SHOOTS MARY LAFAV

Who Was on Her Way Home from Church Service

THEN COMMNITS SUICIDE.

She Refused His Offer of Marriage, and He Determined That She Should Not Wed Another.

Quincy, Mass., March 12.—Love and jealousy were the cause of a probable murder and suicide at Quincy today. The principals in the shocking tragedy were Mary Victoria Lafay, a comely lass of eighteen years, and Joseph Massey, aged about thirty years. The girl is a devout church member and had been to mass and was returning home unattended.

Massey, who had been waiting for her, followed her. When the girl had reached a point opposite the entrance to the old Miller estate, commonly known as The Stile, Massey was seen to step up near her, and, without any warning, drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession, which were followed by a heart-rending scream from the girl.

Several men started for him, but before he could be overtaken he placed the revolver, which he still held in his hand, to his head and fired, the ball entering just Quincy, Mass., March 12 .- Love and his head and fired, the ball entering just above the back of the right ear. Without above the back of the right ear. Without a word he fell on a bank of snow and expired in about ten minutes. One shot passentered the middle of the back a little to the left of the spinal column between the ninth and eleventh ribs, fracturing the ninth rib. One of the bullets lodged in the left lung and one in the abdomen. Physicians do not have much hope of her recovery. SUICIDE IN BIRMINGHAM.

John G. Hasting, of Port Gibson, Miss., Found Dead at a Hotel.

Birmingham, Ala., March 12.-(Special.) Birmingham, Ala., March 12.—(Special.) When the chambermaid at the Metropolitan hotel opened the door of room No. 72, this morning at 11 o'clock, a ghastly sight met her gaze. On the floor, stiff in death, with his right hand grasping a pistol and his brains oozing out in a bloody puddle, lay the occupant, John G. Hastings, of Port Gibson, Miss. How long he had lain there no one knows, though the cook of the hotel thinks he heard a shot in the building about 9 o'clock. The dead man was dressed only in his underclothes, with a clean shirt which he had just gotten from his valise. The ball had entered his from his valise. The ball had entered his right temple, passed through his head and lodged in the wall. The positions were such as to indicate that he was stooping to look in the glass when he pulled the trigger. He left a note mentioning a number of persons whom he knew in Birmingham, and asking that if anything happens to him they would notify Captain A. B. Jones, of Port Gibson.

Mr. Hastings was an organizer of the Knights of Honor, and has been in Biraingham on that business for four or five days. He was a m orders, and of the confederate veterans' camp, of Claiborn county, Miss. He was fifty-eight years old and leaves a widow and several children at Port Gibson. Not the slightest trace has so far been found of any motive for the deed. SALE OF VAGRANTS.

Put Upon the Block and Sold to the Highest

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—A special to The Times from Fayette, Mo., says: Next week Howard county will witness the second sale of vagrant negroes within her borders since the war. The victim on this occasion is George Wynn. On Tuesday next, March 14th, at the south front door of the courthouse, between the hours day next, March 14th, at the south front door of the courthouse, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, he will be sold at public outcry for cash in hand for a term of six months to the highest bidder. Judge Boyd McCreary will most likely be the auctioneer on this occasion. The first public sale of negroes took place here Monday, March 28, 1892. The sale was extensively advertised and caused much comment pro and con.

A Watchman Murdere A Watchman Murdered.

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 12.—Jay E. Pulver, night watchman at the Hayes Todd Mann-facturing Company's mills was found dead this morning. His body was discovered in the basement with the skull crushed into a pulp. Clifton Hand, an employe, who was discharged about four years ago, was arrested this afternoon and charged with the crime. He had been drinking heavily. The accused man denies all knowledge of the murder. Spots having the appearance of blood and brains were found on his clothing and boots. No reason is known for the crime.

Mysterious Female Commits Suicide at a New York Hotel. New York, March 12.—Tonight H. H. Pear-ion, proprietor of the Coleman house, at Broadway and Twenty-seventh streets, found woman in the hotel dead. She came there woman in the hotel dead. She came there yesterday morning and registered as Mrs. F. Carter, of St. Louis. When found she had a bullet wound in her breast. Beside her was a bottle containing laudanum and morphine. She was about twenty-five years old, had blue eyes, wore a brown dress, sealskin cloak and muff, brown plush hat trimmed with blue, black silk underskirt, button shoes. She had an umbrella with sliver handle but no baggage or anything that gives a clue to her identity.

She had an umbrella with silver handle but no baggage or anything that gives a clue to her identity.

The chambermaid went to the woman's room this afternoon to do it up. She couldn't get in. The chambermaid's pass key would not open the door. A hall boy was sent around to the fire escape and he got into the loom from the window, to find the woman lying on the bed dead. Deputy Coroner Conway was then sent for and after his arrival he found a glass with a portion of a milk punch in it. This stood by the side of two bottles, one of which proved to contain morphine, the other laudanum. On the foor was a revolver. Upon examining the body, the deputy coroner was of the opinion that the woman had been dead two hours before he got there. On testing the contents of the glass, he said the milk punch had been mixed with laudanum. There was a builet wound in the left breast of the woman, which is believed to be the direct cause of her death. The theory advanced is that after drinking half of the milk punch, which nad previously been mixed by her with the laudanum, the woman stood before the looking glass in the room and shooting herself through the heart fell back on the bed.

The bottle found in the room which contained laudanum had been sold to a Mrs. Johnson and the signature of the buyer of this person bears considerable similarity to the handwriting in which the name Carter appears on the register of the Coleman house.

SHOT HIS SICK WIFE

And Her Nurse and Then Attempted Saicide.

Chicago, March 12.—Z. S. Kyes, a watchman at the world's fair grounds, tonight fatally shot his wife and Mrs. Wrenn, a neighbor. He then turned his revolver against himself and sent a bullet into his breast, inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. Kyes came home drunk, and, going into the room where Mrs. Wrenn was nursing his wife, who was ill and in bed, he threw his heavy overcoat on the bed. Mrs. Wrenn objected and pulled the coat off. Kyes threw it back again and when Mrs. Wrenn attempted to take it off he chased her from the room and fired two shots at her, both taking effect. Mrs. Kyes was aroused by the shooting and came running out of the bedroom and Kyes immediately shot her in the left side. He then attempted to commit suicide and was taken to the hospital. There is a He then attempted to commit suicide and was taken to the hospital. There is a small chance of his recovery, but both women will die.

An Outlaw Killed. An Outlaw Killed.

Eufaula, I. T., March 12.—A man who arrived in Eufaula this evening from the Chactaw nation brought news of the capture of another outlaw in that nation yesterday. Deputy Marshal John McHenry and posse were after L. J. Davis and another bandit who were charged with robbery. The officers came upon them and demanded their surrender. Davis turned over his Winchester. The other advanced toward McHenry and began firing. The officer returned the fire, killing the man who is unknown. During the excitement Davis made his escape, but was afterwards captured.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS STILL TAKEN

By Vessels Sailing from Hamburg-But the Agents of the Lines Say Every Pre-caution Is Taken Against Disease.

Washington, March 12.—The treasury department is officially advised by the department of state that steerage traffic between European ports and the United States which was discontinued on January 1st last, has been resumed.

terdam, in a report to the state department, gives a detailed account of the precautions taken there to prevent the emigra-tion of persons affected with contagious disease. He states that all steerage pas-sengers are examined by the consular doc-tors, their baggage disinfected by consular tors, their baggage disinfected by consular employes, and a certification of both passenger and baggage made by the consul. In addition to the safeguards against transmission of disease afforded by the local system of examination made immediately before embarkation, a new hotel, designed exclusively for the accommodation of steerage and second-class passengers en route for the United States, has been built. This hotel is known as the "Nasm," and is owned by the Netherlands American Company and is solely under their management. It contains all the modern conveniences of a first-class hostelry. The hotel is located in the immediate neighborhood of the docks. There are separate rooms for families and single persons. The beds are like cabin beds on shipboard, but larger. The sanltary arrangements are of the most modern construction, and, as the hotel is located on a square, it is light and accessible from all sides. A coffee room in which only temperance beverages are sold at a minimum cost, is also provided.

The entire control of this building, according to Dutch laws, is in the hands of employes, and a certification of both pascones room in which only temperance beverages are sold at a minimum cost, is also provided.

The entire control of this building, according to Dutch laws, is in the hands of the commissioner of immigration, although the United States consul has free excess to the building. A hospital room in a building apart from the hotel has also been provided, where any disease suspected may be at once wholly isolated.

In addition to these precautions taken at the hotel, steerage passengers destined for the United States from Rotterdam are met by officers and servants of the steamship company and by boat are also transferred to the hotel adjacent to the steamship wharf, there to remain under such surveillance as may be necessary until the steamship sailing. Should the need at any time arrive, it would be possible to quarantine 600 or 800 people in the hotel quite as effectually as though they were on steamship board. This could not be done by the best regulated emigrant boarding house and from a sanitary point of view it is decidedly advantageous.

Consular Gardner states that within the past three or four years the rate of steerage sailing from Rotterdam to New York has increased in ratio of the added restrictions upon immigration imposed by the United States authorities. The rate for steerage in 1892 was $20.40, while at the present time it is $31.20. The grade of persons going in the steerage has also shown a percentage of improvement more or less closely corresponding to the percentage of increase of cost of passage.

Hamburg is watchful.

Hamburg Is Watchful.

United States Consul Estes at Hamburg has submitted a report of the precautions that he has adopted against infectious diseases into the United States by the resumption of immigration at this point. He states that all vessels sailing from Hamburg for ports in the United States before they can obtain their bill of health must be thoroughly disinfected according to the instructions of the United States Marine hospital service. This distingction is superintended by W. L. Homann, a Hamburg government surgeon who uses the Hamburg police department seal. Further the crews of vessels carrying immigrants are medically examined by Dr. Homann and Dr. Nash, a deputy of Dr. Jenkins, the health officer in New York. These physicians issue a joint certificate as to this examination.

All passengers not traveling in the saloon are medically examined before embarcation by Dr. Homann in his capacity as government surgeon and by a physician of the steamship company.

This examination is made in the presence of either the consul or vice consul and a certificate to that effect is annexed to the passenger manifest of the vessel. United States Consul Estes at Hamburg of either the consul or vice consul and a certificate to that effect is annexed to the passenger manifest of the vessel.

Both of the physicians issue a certificate besides, which declares the passengers to be in good health and free from all infectious diseases. The bill of health, which is not delivered to the steamship until all of these requirements have been complied with, bears across its face in red ink the exact number of cholera cases and deaths which have been reported to the Hamburg senate cholera commission during the fortinght presput to the date of the bill of health.

All of the above mentioned documents bear the authentication of the United States consul. Mr. Estes also states that all passengers coming from Russia and Austria-Hungary are obliged to observe a quarantine of at least six days under police surveillance before they are permitted to go on board ship.

sion, who has been in Washington lately, spent Sunday in New York. He said he was not a bit discouraged by the withdrawal of the treaty and was confident that the negotiations now in progress would result in annexation. When asked what he thought of the deposed queen's statement, published last Friday, he said:

"So far as it refers to Minister Stevens, it is absolutely false. He had not been unfriendly to or tried to embarrass the Hawaiian government. On the other hand, his conduct has been unusually courteous toward the queen and her representatives."

"Do you favor the appointment of a commission to investigate Hawaiian affairs?"

"I do not think it would be advisable to send a commission to Hawaii now. It would only delay our negotiations."

"Are you in favor of the establishment of a protectorate?"

"I do not see how such a policy would aid us any in solving the question. The trouble is all internal. The provisional government is now in charge of the business men who have taken it in hand, believing that it was best for the people on the islands. They simply want to maintain the present form until some arrangement mutually satisfactory can be made with the United States. The queen will never be restored to the throne, and the movement in favor of the princess as her successor will, I think; be futile. All those who understand the needs of Hawaii believe in annexation."

Washington, March 11.—Secretary Smith yes-terday ordered the temperary suspension of all homestead entries in Clark county, Alabama. This order is issued upon representations homestead entries in Clark county, Alabama. This order is issued upon representations made by Governor Jones, of that state, to the effect that entries were being made of salt springs and saline lands in violation of section 6 of the act admitting Alabama into the union. A thorough investigation will be made and the lands will remain in suspension until all the facts are ascertained. The secretary today revoked and canceled permits which were issued February 13th last to the Blackfoot Milling Company and Bitter Root Development Company, of Missoula county, Montana, to cut 60 per cent of the timber on public lands in that county. The permit of the Blackfoot Milling Company embraced about 15,000 acres scattered through the twelve townships, and that to the Bitter Root Company embraced about 62,000 acres fecretary Emith holds strongly to the opinion that the granting of such extensive timber cutting privileges is against the public interest and would, if continued, speedily result in the total destruction of the forest of the west. His action in this matter, however, was hastened by the receipt of information that fraud was practiced in obtaining the permission.

A NEW HOTEL FOR WAYCROSS.

It is Contemplated to Build a Large One to Accommodate Tourists.

Waycross, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—There is a movement on foot to build a $50,000 tourist hotel here. A gentleman who was interested in the movement said that it was very probable that a stock company would be organized. The idea is to build the hotel within half a mile of the business portion of the city and surround it with beautiful parks and drives and run an electric car line from the passenger depot to the hotel.

The rapid growth of the city demands a hotel for tourists and invalids. It is certain that the climate of Florida is much least fear of an epidemic breaking out.

A northern tourist remarked today that he thought it strange that capitallists seeking investment in the south had passed Waycross by for the overcrowded cities and the fact that it is destined to become of great commercial importance, make it a most desirable place for the investment of northern capital.

When a suitable site can be secured the city will at once go to work to build a public park. The park will contain nearly ten acres. There will be drives, walks, beautiful trees, shrubbery and flowers. There are several small parks in the city, but the rapid growth of the place demands that a public park to cost several thousand dollars be built. Northern tourists often ask: "Where is the park?" It is certain that the park will be located and laid off in a few weeks, and it will be an "Gramment to the place.

OUT OF CONTROL OF THE N. Y. & N. E.

But the Scheme for a Receiver Will Fall on Account of the Statement of Earn-ings-The Ann Arbor Strike.

Boston, Mass., March 12.—In view of a sublished statement that a midnight re-eivership might frustrate the plan of the fcleod interests to obtain control of the ceivership might frustrate the plan of the McLeod interests to obtain control of the New York and New England railroad at the annual meeting of Tuesday; that both sides were said to be prepared for a receivership and the additional assertion that the Reading interests had the proxies to control the election, but not the cash to hold the stock under the fire of a receivership, a telegraph of the New England of statement of the condition of the New Eng-land road and the outlook for it under Readland road and the outlook for it under Reading control is made by parties friendly to that management in substance as follows: A gigantic effort is still being made to depress New England stock in order that the control may pass from the hands of the Reading's friends, but the effort will be unsuccessful. The net floating debt on December 31, 1892, was only $379,354, as against $438,393 on December 31, 1891, the reduction during the year having been $59,039. The Parsons management, which succeeded that of Mr. Gorbin in the first quarter of 1892 was hampered in its financial management by the purchase last autumn of the majority of the stock by the McLapd interest.

tumn of the majority of the stock by the Mc-Leod interest.

A reduction in the amount of the floating debt, although small, was therefore very encouraging. The gross floating debt in-cludes $470,910 interest accrued to Decem-ber 31, 1892.

Against the interest is held $282,660 cash, $662,395 due from agents and conductors and $828,503 due from companies and in-dividuals.

These facts show that a receivership is dividuals.

These facts show that a receivership is impossible. The money for interest is in hand and the notes payable of $442,853 are not nearly due. The alliance with the Reading will be most advantageous to the New England. In fact, its net earnings increased $170,000 in the last quarter of 1892 and gross earnings for January 1893 increased $70,000.

Switchmen Conclude That They Will Not Strike. Chicago, March 12.—The Chicago switchmen will remain at work for the present at least. A mass meeting of the switchmen will be called for some day this week, at which the decision of the grievance committee will be presented and the whole matter discussed.

Grand Master Wilson, of the Switchmen's Aid Association was much pleased with the outcome of today's meeting, as he believes a strike at this time would be an injudicious movement. He declines, however, to discuss the probability of a walkout at some more opportune time in the future.

A portion of the new men who had been some more opportune time in the future.

A portion of the new men who had been secured in anticipation of a strike will be given employment during the world's fair rush. The others will be given transportation to their homes as soon as the railroad managers are assured that all danger of a strike is passed.

Employing the Pinkertons.

Toledo, O., March 12.—The drafting in by the Ann Arbor company late last night of twenty-five special detectives has added a new feature to the strike situation, which is hourly becoming more serious. These detectives were sent here from a Detroit agency and are under the direction of W. H. Boyd, who was prominent in the railway trouble at Buffalo last fall. In a very inflammatory interview Mr. Boyd soundly berated the strikers and particularly the lenders, who, he said, were men who went around the country inciting disorder and violence. It is an assured fact that some of the detectives will be sent to Owosso, Mich., where there has been some trouble between non-union men and strikers.

The Strike Will Be Settled.

New York, March 12.—J. M. Ashley, J. M. neys.

If the kidneys are deranged they cannot keep the blood pure and healthy.

And if the blood is not kept pure, the whole system becomes poison and deranged. Having few nerves of sensation, disease may exist in the kidneys and yet give no pain.

Some of the evidences of diseased kidneys are high-colored, scalding urine, brick dust deposit, uric acid in the blood, puffness under the eyes, swelling of the abdomen, ankles and legs, tube casts in the urine, dryness of the skin, pallor of the face, cold extremities, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, neuralgic pains, rheumatism, fickle appetite, headache, dark, muddy urine, etc., indicate the need of

Stuart's Gin and Buchu

Any of the above symptoms at first may be slight, but they should not be neglected. They point to kidney trouble, and left to develop may terminate in Bright's disease. Sold by all druggists.

Notes and Gossip About Persons.

in. Ga., March 12 .- (Special.)-Next mesday is the day set for the hearing of petition for the removal of Mr. W. B. as as receiver of the Georgia Scuthern Florida railroad. It will be remembered at the matter came up before Judge Jen-tet month, but as Hoke Smith, the ading attorney for the petitioners, was called to Atlanta by the death of Mr. Tom the Darkson and then had to leave in a few days for Washington city to assume the calls of secretary of the interior, the furties of secretary was a secretary and the first was a secretary of the secretary of the secretary and the first was a secretary and the first was a secretary and the secretary of the secretary and the hearing was postponed until March the Constitution is informed today the is very probable that the matter that it is very probable that the matter will not be taken up next Wednesday, but will again be postponed. In fact, it is said that the attorneys for petitioner have mained the defendant counsel that they will sat for a postponement on the ground that Hoke Smith's duties as secretary of the nor are so pressing at present that he be absolutely unable to attend the ring this week. The defendant is ready baring this week. The defendant is ready and anxious for the renewal of the hearing, but will doubtless consent to the postponement for the sole reason of Mr. Smith's stention at Washington. Mr. Sparks does at fear the result, for even should Judge Jakins sustain the petitioner the supreme cart would undoubtedly decline to remove Mr. Sparks, considering the past decisions of the supreme court in Georgia for many reas.

AN INHUMAN MOTHER

Hides Her Baby Between Two Logs to

Macon, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—This afternoon a two-months'old white sirl baby was found lying on its face between two logs near the Macon and Dublin passenger depot. A couple of negro men walking along had their attention attracted by the baby's crying. The child was taken to the city hall and tonight is being cared for by a negro woman until tomorrow, when better lodgment will be provided. No clue has yet been obtained as to the parentage of the child, though the baggage master of the Macon and Dublin road suspects a young woman who came to his depot from the Central depot with a small baby in her arms. She got on the train and it is the contracts the state of the train and it is the contracts at the contract of the train and it is the contracts at the contract of the train and it is the contracts at the contract of the train and it is the contracts at the contract of the contr in her arms. DALTON DOTS.

Whitfield Superior Court-Improve

Personal Mention.

Dalton, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—The superior court of Whitheld county meets the first Monday in April. There is nothing much on the docket, with the exception of a few suitagainst the railroads. There is not a criminal case of any note on the docket. Whitheld is an orderly county, and has less lawing than any of the state in proportion to there size. Judge Milner and Solicitor Fits will not have much to do up here.

Colonci B. T. Boyd of Florida, and wife are at the Hotel Daiton. Colonel Boyd has recently bought Dalton and Whitfield property from G. W. Ogleshy, of this city, and manow be justly styled a Daltonian.

The Ladles' Improvement Society, of the First Presbyterian church, is raising $1,500 to make improvements to that church building. Already half the money has been raised. The past week has been one of real estate transfers and business changes. W. N. and A. M. French, of Portage county, Ohio, have purchased a home in South Dalton, and a farm near the city. They will move here at once and go into the fruit and truck farming business.

G. M. Cannon, our principal clothing merchant, bought of Dr. H. K. Main his storehouse had lot, corner Hamilton and King streets, across the street from The Argus, and will erect a handsome three-story building on the site at an early day. He will finish the building in granite with glass front on the King street side.

G. C. Davis, real estate agent of Chattanooga, has sold the J. M. Nation plantation, three miles north of Tunnell Hill, to a New York party. The New York party will come to deorgia at once.

The Cherokee Furniture Company, the past week, purchased the Dalton Furniture and Coffin emporium, and the two hones are now one. Mr. E. H. Carman the manager of the old Cherokse company, has associated with himself Colonel W. H. Russell, of Cole City, and the new firm is Russell & Carman. They carry a $20,000 stock and have a stiff financial backing. Dr. S. A. Foster, who sold out his establishment to them will move to Atlanta and with H. G. Blanton will go into the undertaking business. He has been a good citizen and Dalton hates to lose him.

The Dalton Crystal Ice Company, having reorganized and thoroughly refitted their establishment, will begin operations about April 1st.

The Dalton Crystal Ice Company, having reorganized and thoroughly refitted their establishment, will begin operations about April 1st.

Mrs. Lucy Tibbs tendered the Cosic club an elegant reception Wednosday night. It was one of the most elegant affairs that ever came off in Daiton.

The Cherokee Manufacturing Company will hold their arnual meeting next Wednesday, March 15th. The company has been doing a log-rolling hysiness the past year, and it is believed a more than handsome dividend will be declared. The company have put an addition to their pianing mill; 30x40 feet, greatly enlarging their capacity in that respect.

P. G. Walker, until recently bookkeeper of the First National bank, has, with his wife and baby, gone on a three-weeks' pleasure trip to Hoxle, Kan. He will not return to Dalton, but will engage in the banking business at Lexington, Ky.

Miss Stelia Walker, who has been on an extended visit to our city, has returned to her home in Lexington, Ky.

Miss Aunio Graves, of Charleston, Tenn., is on a visit to the family of John Graves on King street.

Mr. C. P. Cooper and wife, of Murphy, N. C., are visiting at Colonel W. H. Pruden's.

Miss Annie Comer. of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Etta Pride, of Knoxylle, Tenn., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. R. A. Rushton. Dr. C. A. Regro Tramps Attack the Sheriff and Make Their Escape

FORSYTH JAIL SATURDAY.

Citisens Pursue, but Do Not Overtake Them-The Deputy Sheriff's Inju-ries Painful, but Not Serious.

Forsyth, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Forsyth has just had another jail delivery. Two negro tramps who were arrested a few days ago for burglarizing the stores of Mr. Rumble, of Goggas, and Mr. Will Hill, of Smarrs, made their escape from our jail today as Deputy Sheriff Jim King went in them their dinner. from our jail today as Deputy Sheriff Jim King went in to give them their dinner. They had succeeded in getting out of their cells, and concealing themselves, waited until Mr. King opened the outer doors where they made an attack upon him, knocking him a severe blow on the head. They then nim a severe blow on the head. They then rushed down the stairs and made for the woods. Quite a number of citizens, well armed, put out immediately in pursuit and it is very probable they will be recaptured. It was only several months ago when four or five prisoners made their escape here in a similar way. Mr. King's injury, while very painful is not serious, and he was able to join the pursuing party.

ARRESTING A DESPERADO.

Officers and the Fellow.

Fort Valley, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—The negro arrested by Marshal Cooper near Powersville yesterday confessed to being Lonnie Stephens and said he was the chap wanted for shooting at some one in Columbus a few days ago. As soon as Stephens saw Marshal Cooper he raised his gun and fired at him before a word was spoken, taking the marshal and his friend by surprise. Cooper was between his assastant and the negro and it was necessary for him to run round Cooper to fire at him. This he did as quick as possible and the result was two buckshot in Stephens's leg and thigh from a double-barrelled shotgun. After being shot Stephens jumped upon a projection so he could see his assailant good and did his utmost to shoot them again, but his Winchester hung fire. Cooper and his deputy advanced on him firing a blank cartridge, the buckshot in the gun having spilled out, there being only a thin wad on them. It caused him to throw up his hands and surrender.

Dr. J. W. Mitchell, of this place, dressed spilled out, there being only a thin wad on them. It caused him to throw up his hands and surrender.

Dr. J. W. Mitchell, of this place, dressed the negro's wounds, but he could not walk this morning. Marshal Cooper carried him to Columbus on the noon train and will deliver him there, claiming all the rewards offered for him. The sheriff of Butts county says he is wanted there for cutting a white man to pieces and it is reported that there is a state reward of $150 for him for cutting his wife's throat.

The Columbus officials did not seem anxious for this desperado after they knew he was caught and did not answer the last telegram sent them. Your correspondent talked with Stephens and is convinced that he is a desperate criminal, mean enough for any deed and Marshal Cooper will not deliver him until the rewards are settled, as he and his friend are entitled to it all for the danger they faced to secure this villain. Stephens says he has been roving for years and always went well armed; that he knew these men were after him is why he shot at them so quick. His wounds will keep him from walking for some time, but will be well in time for him to commence work in the chaingang after he is sentenced.

THE LAUGH ON THE COLONEL,

And All on Account of Using Second-Hand.

Wrapping Paper.

Irwinton, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—During the Black-Watson campaign, Colonel Boykin Wright, of Augusts, would occasionally send an express package to Colonel J. W. Lindsey, chairman of the Black Club here. A wrapper of one of these packages was picked up by a merchant of our town a few days ago and taken into his store to be used for wrapping up goods. On yesterday one of the clerks in this store sold a cheap suit of clothes to a darky and wrapped it up in this paper. In wrapping it up the old address, "Colonel J. W. Lindsey, Irwinton, Ga. From Hoykin Wright, Chair., Augusta League," could be plainly seen on the package. The darky left the bundle on the counter and stepped out of the store for a few moments. While he was gone some one seeing the package called to Colonel Indsey that "Boykin Wright had sent him another express package." The colonel immediately came over and took the bundle to his home. Soon after the darky, to whom the bundle belonged, returned, and not finding it began to make some inquiries and was told to go to Lindsey's house and ask him for his And All on Account of Using Second-Hand the bundle belonged, returned, and not finding it begen to make some inquiries and was told to go to Lindsey's house and ask him for his clothes. When the negro reached the colonel's house the colonel was trying on his new suit, and his wife was standing near by admiring it. The darky stopped a few moments at the door and heard the colonel say to his wife:

"Darling, this is a mighty shoddy-looking suit Wright has sent me, and it doesn't fit."

"Well, honey," said Mrs. Lindsey, "you know this is an economical administration and they have sent you a cheap suit so that you might start out with them ou an economical plan. I guess all the Augusta folks are wearing these sort of goods now."

About this time the darky called for his clothes, and the colonel was so mad that, for a long time, he refused to take them off. But his wife finally prevailed upon him to give them up, and the negro went on his way rejoicing.

Colonel Lindsey loves a laugh as well as any one, but this time he can only manage to smile-very weakly.

THOMASVILLE'S STREET RAILROAD.

Electric Cars Will Soon Be Running-Other

Thomasvelle, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)
Thomasville is at last to have a street railroad. The scheme is now assured. The crossties are already being cut, and the rails and rolling stock ordered. It will be an electric line. A meeting was held yesterday morning, at which the gentlemen holding the old street franchise, granted some years ago, transferred their charter. Messrs. A. T. McIntyre, A. T. McIntyre, Jr., Dr. I. McIntyre, W. H. Mitchell and T. C. Mitchell are the board of directors of the new company, which is known as the Thomasville and Suburban Railroad Company. The council has granted street privileges. No time will now be lost in pushing the road to completion. The new company is composed of capitalists with unlimited means.

Miss Clara Deisher has resigned the position of manager of the Western Union telegraph office at this place. Miss Deisher took charge on September 1, 1885. She has returned to her old home in Pennsylvania. Mrs. M. S. Hart, of Tallahassee is her successor as manager.

A Large Confirmation Class—The Boy Chelr.

Choir.

Milledgeville. Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—
Bishop C. K. Nelson preached at St. Stephen's Episcopal church this morning and the services were among the memorable occasions in the history of the church. A novel feature of the service to people here was the appearance of the boy choir, composed of eighteen of the brightest little fellows in the village.
Messra. Himespeter, Beland and Miss Brantly presided over the violin, cornet and organ, and the music is regarded as the finest ever heard in a church here. A class of nine were confirmed. ing.

Rev. Mr. Sturgis, the rector of St. Stephen's church, has been here only a short while but his church is delighted with his leadership, while people of every class admire the splendid man. The boy choir was among the first additions made to the church under his

Where to Find The Constitution. THE CONSTITUTION can be found on sale as fol New York-Brentano's, No. 124 Fifth avenue New York—Fifth avenue Hotel News Stand. Cincinnati—J. R. Hawley, 162 Vine street. Washington—Metropolitan Hotel. Jacksonville—W. E. Armstrong.

ATLANTA, GA., March 13, 1893.

Where Is the Law?

We commented yesterday upon the undemocratic and illogical attitude of The New York World, with respect to the so-called gold reserve. The position our contemporary assumes is very clearly "Whenever there is an apparent necessity to trench upon the gold reserve, sell bonds for gold with which to make it good."

The intention here expressed is clearer than the phraseology. Since the bonds are to be sold, when there is even an apparent necessity to trench upon the reserve, we might inquire what is to be made good. But that we shall let pass. There is no occasion to split pairs, when gross ignorance stands pleading to be enlightened. We have a question for The World that goes to the very bottom of the matter, and we trust it will find time to answer it. It is true, we have no large hopes in that direction. We begged it, the other day, to tell us what a redemption fund is for, if not to redeem, but it has shuffled, and evaded with the statement we printed yesterday.

The World says that bonds should be issued, even when there is an apparent tendency to trench upon the gold reserve. Having given this advice, will The World inform us under what law or color of law the bonds will be issued? John Sherman said, in the senate the other day, that the secretary of the treasury was authorized by an act to issue bonds to replenish the redemption fund, but this assertion was false, and Sherman knew it was false when he made it. There is no such act on the statute book, and the secretary of the treasury has no authority to issue bonds to replenish the gold reserve.

The World and other rampant organs of the gold clique persist in saying that Mr. Carlisle will issue bonds. If they are so certain of it, surely they can point to the law that authorizes it. This is what we ask The World to do, and we hope it will go about it without shuffling or evasion. It is very important to our contemporary's side of the argument that it should find such a law, and it is of even more importance to the banking clique that is clamoring for a bond issue.

Does The World expect Mr. Carlisle to increase the public debt, and thereby add to the taxes of the people, without the authority of the law? If it does, we can tell Editor Pulitzer that his measure ment of the character and integrity of John G. Carlisle is grossly unjust.

Another fact to which we invite the attention of The World is this, that there is no provision of the law that requires the so-called gold reserve of $100,000,000 to be kept intact; and we predict that, if Mr. Carlisle ever takes upon himself the necessity of issuing bonds, it will be when the reserve fund shows signs of petering out. And that will be ample time. Only dire necessity should force the democratic administration to increase the public debt and add to the burthens

European War Funds.

The Paris correspondent of The New York Herald is authority for the statement that five of the leading European powers have locked up the sum of six thousand, five hundred and twenty-five million francs for war purposes

Germany was the first country to start a resurve fund for this purpose, and she now has one thousand, five hundred million francs. France has two billion francs, and Russia has two thousand, one hundred and twenty-five million francs. Even Austria and Italy have large sums in their war chests.

None of this money can be touched except in the event of war, and the effort is being made to swell the amounts now on hand. This immense accumulation of wealth is a constant menace to the world's peace, and it goes without saying that it will be used some day for the destruction of human life, with the result very likely of changing the entire map of Europe. The substitution of arbitration for the methods of force seems to be as far off as ever. We are to have wars and rumors of war for many generations to come. The eastern question is yet to be settled, and France and Germany must again try conclusions before they will settle down for a long period of peace.

It is enough to make enlightened Christians sick at heart when they survey the situation and note all these preparations for bloodshed. If all these millions were devoted to peaceful objects, the dream of abolishing poverty would come very near being realized.

Since the death of Taine, the French historian, there is a revival of public interest in his remarkable study of Napo-

Taine pictured the great Corsican as an unscrupulous Italian of the worst type—a belated Borgia—a cold and selfish monster whose wonderful intellect enabled him to dominate the masses and conceive and execute plans of the most stupendous magnitude. He attempted a close analysis of Napoleon's mind and character and based his conclusions very largely upon the laws of heredity as exhibited in the life and conduct of a na-

With all his brilliant ability, the historian was the slave of his favorite theories and fads. To sustain his ideas of heredity he did not hesitate to put the worst construction upon the words and ever reigned over France.

We cannot believe that such a prejudiced study of Napoleon will live. The great emperor was very human. In his populity men extermed it an honor to help. poverty men esteemed it an honor to h him; in his days of power they gladly died for him, and in his sorrowful exile they were eager to be his companions. A monster, cruel and selfish, could not have inspired such love and devotion. A belated Borgia would never have tarned aside for a heavily laden slave, as Napo eon did at St. Helena, saying to a lady who was inclined to keep the narrow pathway: "Respect the burden, madam. Numerous such incidents in Napoleon's career showed a consideration for other that would not have been manifested by heartless tyrant. Taine's estimate of the emperor will not do. It is not the outcome of genuine his tory. It is simply the guess work of man who was misled by his scientific the ories. The theories may have been sound, but they were wrongly applied.

Village Farming.

The Constitution began vesterday the publication of a series of letters from Proessor H. C. White, of the State university, on the present agricultural condition of Georgia and the methods by which it may be improved. Professor White has already challenged the attention of the thoughtful men of the state by his address delivered before the Georgia Agricultural Society, and the letters which he will contribute to our columns from week to week will still further arouse the interest of those who perceive that a remedy must be speedily found for the conditions which oppress our farmers and retard their progress.

The Constitution has printed, from time to time, many matters of interest and importance relative to our farmers and their work, but we may safely venture to say that it has never printed a serial of more absorbing and abounding practical interest than that which Professor White is preparing for its columns, the first installment of which we printed vesterday.

The remedy which Professor White proposes has never before been discussed in its relations to the farmers of Georgia and the south. It is essentially new, and yet it is simple. It goes to the very root of the matter, and, in its practical aspects, appeals as keenly to capitalists who have money to put in a safe investment as to farmers who desire to improve the conditions by which they are surrounded, who desire to be brought in social contact with their neighbors, and who desire to see their children reap the advantages that are to be found in the communal system.

Professor White proposes to change the environment of the farmer by planting about him the new conditions that are necessary in this age to his enjoyment of life and to the realization of profits substantial enough to repay him for his toil. Professor White's letters are not addressed exclusively to the farmers, but to those who have capital to invest, and to all who would profit by an improve ment of our agricultural conditions, and by an enhancement in the value of our farm lands. In short, Professor White's letters will appeal to the thoughtful public.

A Point in Journalism.

The Boston Herald has a strong and ensible editorial in reply to a correspondent who protested against its report of the recent prize fight in New Orleans. In explaining matters to its correspondnt. The Herald declares that t in prize fights is very general. It is not confined to the rough element, but pervades every class It was noticed, after the great Sullivan-Corbett fight, that the next morning, on the street cars in Boston, every man of position, wealth and culture, as well as persons belonging to the middle classes, turned first to the report of the contest.

Now, a great newspaper recognizes the fact that human nature is interested in all contests, mental and physical. History is mainly devoted to contests between governments, and they are generally armed conflicts. The struggle between governments is only a struggle between individuals on a large scale. Trials of strength and skill are bound to interest the people, and they are anxious to read of battles, prize fights, political and legal strife, rowing, football and baseball matches and lawn-tennis tournaments. How can a great newspaper leave out such matters? It cannot do it, unless it proposes to content itself with a very limited circulation. It cannot ignore the news of the day without ceasing to be a newspaper. The old objection that reports of prize fights, crimes, etc., are demoralizing to the young is simply stuff and nonsense. The youngsters hear worse things at school and on the streets than they will ever find in the newspapers. If parents are afraid to have their children read certain newspaper articles, they should look over their journals before placing them in the hands of children of tender age. They should remember that newspapers are printed for grown people, and not for little toddlers.

Massachusetts Tenants and Debtors. Massachusetts contains more millionaires than any other state in the union. There is no congestion of wealth in the commonwealth, and the impression has gone abroad that the people nearly all own their homes, and are financially independent. This is a mistake. In the current number of Bradstreet's, we find the following: ber of Bradstreet's, we find the following:

A recent census bulletin is devoted to a presentation of the results of an investigatior into the farm and home proprietorship in Massachusetts. It appears from the figures given that 15.06 per cent of the farm families hire and 84.94 per cent own the farms cultivated by them; that 30.46 per cent of the farm-owning families own subject to incumbrance and 69.54 per cent own free of incumbrance. On the owned farms of the state there are liens amounting to $11,831,941, which is 41.85 per cent of their value and this debt bear. per cent of their varue and this debt bear-interest at the average rate of 5.58 per cent making the average annual interest charge $74 to each family. Each owned and incum bered farm on the average is worth $8,156 and is subject to a debt of $1,323. The cor-responding facts for homes are that 67.28 per cent of the home families hire and $2.72 per cent own their homes; that of the home-owning families 00.67 per cent own free of incumbrance. The sebt on owned homes aggregates $102, 948,196, or $5.03 per cent of their value, and bear interest at the average rate of 5.43 per cent, so that the annual amount of interest to each home averages $98. An average debt of $1,797 incumbers each home which has the average value of $3,090.

These figures suggest the conclusion that high protection, monopoly and a mancial system, administered for a generation in the interests of the money kings, have made the masses in the Bay State suffer many evils in common with the people of the south and west. We contended, during the campaign of last year, that the agitation for financial and tariff reform should be vigorously carried on in the east, and not be confined to the south and west. During the past twelve months, there has been a growing demand in New England for printed matter advocating these reforms, and explaining the nature of the financial situation in the different sections, the causes and the probable results. This demand should be supplied, and New England should be thoroughly canvassed by men who are able to handle, from the standpoint of reform, the great questions of free silver and state banks.

One controlling reason why so many intelligent and industrious citizens in Massachusetts stagger under mortgages, or cannot own their homes, is because our federal taxes eat up our currency as fast as it gets into circulation, and because the demonetization of silver, the contraction of the money value and the national bank system make it almost impossible for those outside of the privileged classes to save anything and get ahead. unless they live on half rations and falsify their tax returns. The east is an inviting missionary field for democratic reformers.

A Railroad to Europe.

If an all-rail route from this country to Europe ever becomes an accomplished fact, it will be some time in the very distant future, but the preliminary survey from Vancouver to Behring strait show that the project is feasible.

That Behring strait can be bridged in its shallowest and narrowest part is said to be possible by eminent engineers, and it is estimated that the railroad across Alaska would not cost more than $23,000 a mile. But would such an enterprise pay? The discomfort of a short sea voyage would be far preferable to a railroad trip of several weeks' duration through such bleak countries as Alaska and Siberia. As The New York Sun

Any American going to Europe for business or pleasure would not be likely to choose the He would be far longer on the way, and would travel for half the earth's circumference brough the most monotonous, and, in part he bleakest of countries. If he were bo a pilgrimage to the tomb of Tamberlane Central Asia, he could reach it, going east in three weeks. Three weeks from this city by the proposed all-rail route would find out tourist still in the depths of Siberia, and seven more days would elapse before he saw ever the eastern frontier of Russia in Europe.

For strategetical reasons the Chinese ar-disposed to regard with favor the project for railroad through Manchuria to the Russian frontier, and it was reported a year ago that work had actually been begun at the s end of the line. The road may be built some day and joined to the trans-Siberian line. Bu what American merchant or tourist, save is around this gigantic and uninviting circle to reach the ports of China?
Under the circumstances, it is a matter of surprise that capitalists should spend their money on a survey of no practica value to them. The scheme is altogether in the air, so far as this generation is

The dicky-birds who flutter around Washington and write for the newspapers say that Senator Hill was smiling when he went in to see Mr. Cleveland and smiling when he came out. This shows that the dicky-birds keep their little eyes open.

Mr. Cleveland's idea is that those who have had a slice of pie should wipe the crumbs off their beards and give way to those who haven't had any.

For the benefit of The Washington Post we will state that The Constitution prooses to follow right behind the real and help bind up the sheaves. Let the

There are plenty of honest and efficie democrats in this state to fill the 2,500 offices that belong to Georgia.

After Georgia gets her fair apportion-ment of offices, he is a spoilsman who would call for more.

Buck Kilgore is a kicker, but he's nighty good democrat.

The Boston Herald ought to get out a special edition devoted to Jolin Sherman and the Bank of France.

The republican brethren need not worry. When Mr. Carlisle begins to issue bonds there will not be a surpuls of $100,000,000 in gold in the treasury. The Cleveland administration proposes to run the govern ment in the interest of the people, and not in the interest of the Wall street that wants to get at the profits of a bond is-

The other day in Brooklyn a crowd of young toughs delayed a funereal an hour with snowballs. The same day in New York a gang of boys attacked the passers-by in a similar manner, robbing them of their portable property and holding it for ransom. The time-worn "million stamps" lie still survives, and is likely to prove immortal. People all over the country are trying to accumulate 1,000,000 canceled postage stamps, in the belief that a standing offer is made by the government or by somebody of a big prize for such a collection. Some think that $10,000 is the sum guaranteed, while others imagine that the reward is the endowment of a permanent bed in a hospital. The popular notion on this subject being somewhat undefined, letters asking about it are constantly received at the postoffice department, Washington. But no denials serve to destroy the widespread faith in this strange chimers.

The improvement of firearms in the course of the present century almost equals the progress from crossbows to fiint-lock muskets. The trumpet-shaped musquetoons of the fifteenth century could be used only at close rauge, but their chief defect was their liability to miss fire altogether. As late as 1752 Marechal Saxe pardoned a deserter because every one of the six muskets in the hands of the firing squad had failed to explode its charge, and the delinquent was considered a protege of Providence. Imagine the chances of that soldier if the six marksmen had used rifles of the Manlicher pattern, with cartridges warranted to explode 449,995 times in half a million shots.

The most successful farmer is North Carolina is said to be Mr. T. J. King, a bachelor of thirty residing at Louisburg. He is called a book farmer, because he uses his brains and scientific knowledge in his business. In 1890 he preduced 1,330 pounds lint, three bales, on one acre, the largest yield ever known in the state. At one of our Fledmont expositions his exhibit alone covered 1,600 square feet of space, and included sixty varieties of corn, thirty-four of cotton, forty-three species of hay and grasses, ten of to-bacco, ninety-six specimens of garden crops, twenty-two kinds of wine, 150 jars of preserves, jellies, etc., with many varieties of serves, jellies, etc., with many varieties of wheat, oats, peas and potatoes. He was the youngest exhibitor at the exposition and took the first prize on several of his exhibits.

POLITICS IN GENERAL.

Boston Traveler: With Richard Olney as attorney general, Josish Quincy as assistant secretary of state, and General P. A. Collins the consul generalship at London Can hardly lay claim to many other first-class positions.

New York Sun: In ordinary fairness to President Cleveland, we have a word to say about a notion which some of the more fool ish of his friends are seduously inculcating and which seems to have impressed the mind of the public to a considerable extent.

St. Louis Republic: The recall of the Hast. Louis Republic: The recall of the Hawaiian "treaty" by Mr. Cleveland yesterday is what everyone who knew him expected of him. He shows his honesty and love of freedom by refusing to become a party to the Spreckles scheme for subjugating the islands.

Chicago Inter Ocean: No doubt Mr. Voor hees represents the sentiment of the demo catic party west of the Allegheny mountains far more truly than Mr. Carlisle does, and the Grover Cleveland did in the selection of a sec retary of the treasury. That much must conceded in all fairness.

Hartford Courant: The first point to be disposed of is to determine what is to be done with Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indians. He stands at the head of the list on the demoatic side of the remnant of the committee ider the usages of the senate he is entitle o the chairmanship. But Mr. Voorhees is ree silver democrat, has been a political an president; is in very poor health, and is not the man whom the administration desires to have in that position.

We refer to the notion that Mr. Cleveland is not only the chief executive authority of the United States, but also the chief law making authority; that the legislation of the next four years must have its origin in 1: brain, and its principal impulse in his volition in short, that he, individually, is the person charged with the redemption of the pledges of the democratic platform of 1892, and responsi-ble for the fulfillment of the party's declared for editors to aspire to elective off pointive offices are a different matter. When president offers a lucrative office to an editor the transaction looks too much like reward-ing the editor for past services or paying him advance for future services to the occuwhite house. Editors should place too high an estimate upon the importance and dignity of their own public function to seek appointive affices; but since many of them hanker after the flesh pots the president has done well to intimate that he does not in-tend to place himself in the way of seeming to buy and pay for their support out of the public treasury.

Incianapolis News: In connection with the inauguration the Hon. Dave Hill was conspicuous for his inconspicuity. He hanot been much in evidence in any way until yesterday. Then early in the day by prearrangement, he called at the white house, was ushered swiftly into the president's private room; and there he staid alone with him, the correspondents impressively say, "for a whole third of an hour." Surely that was no formal call. That was a regular visit. What die mal call. That was a regular visit. What die they talk about? What may they not have talked about? Alas, we shall never know. But whatever they talked about, everybody seems to think "it was a famous victory.' The Hon. Dave Hill has called on Mr. Cleveland! Is there a truce? land! Is there a truce?

Nashville American: There never should says The Boston Herald, be another inaugura-tion of a president on the 4th of March. It is fitting that the senior senator under the gov-ernment as is John Sherman, should take the ernment as is John Sherman, should take the tead in procuring legislation to forbid it. Only the most stupid and unreasonable conservatism has operated to prevent the change for some time. To continue the custom is now simply criminal. It not only interferes with half the impressiveness of the ceremony; it is a bar to nearly all its enjoyments. It is danger out to health in the last degree. There can be little doubt that people have emplanted the seeds of death by their exposure to the weather of last Saturday. To continue a custom which induces this risk is to do an entom which induces this risk is to do an en-tirely unnecessary act, and one which there is every reason to believe may result in fatal consequences to a considerable number o.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The marvels of modern invention have simplified, as they have centralized, government. It is easier to govern five hundred millions of people foday than it was to govern five million a hundred years ago. The military people can concentrate troops in three hours where Napoleon could not have concentrated them in as many weeks. The civic power has only to touch a button in Washington to suppress a conspiracy in San Francisco before its authors have reached their homes from their secret place of meeting. What do we want with any outlying provinces, mere beehives of corruption, and why should we concern ourselves about the warring dynasties of Europe, whose sum-tota we shall presently be able to crush as one might crush a handful of eggs? The whole scheme is preposterous, born in infamy, to end, let us hope, in absurdity.

False Figures.

False Figures.

From The Boston Globe.

Mr. Henry M. Boias has undertaken to give the crime statistics of the United States and he makes the somewhat startling assertion that crime is on the increase. More than that, he declares the ratio of increase to be so great that we stand appalled at his assertions. For instance, he tells us that forty years ago there was one criminal in every thirty-live hundred, whereas at the present time there is one for every seven hundred and eighty-six of the population.

To the pessimist, who is in a chronic state of diagrantiement, and who is sure that the world is on a tobogran silds beaded for the pit, this must be a sweet morsel. To all sen-able people, however, it is evident that Mr. Roles has falled to consider certain important facts. For instance an enormous proportion of our court records is made up of cases of drunkenness. Eliminate these and the ratio of criminal increase is at once lowered. Well, forty years ago drunkenness was hardly considered a crime save in exceptional cases. The use of stimulants were well nigh universal. It would, therefore, be manifestly unfair to assert that human fature is growing worse when the simple truth is that we now consider criminal what a generation ago was taken as a matter of course.

We don't believe that Mr. Boles or any one clae can hold his own on the statement that society is crumbling into ruins.

Administration Will Get Nothing.

From The Washington Post.

The announcement, unofficially, but no less authodistavely, given out by President Cleveland to the effect that as a rule no applications for appointment will be entertained from those who held positions under his first administration, falls like an exceedingly wet blanket upon the numerous ex-office holders who have come on to Washington with the expectation of reinstatement. Yet there can be little question as to the general fairness and good sense of this policy. It may be departed from in exceptional cases, but such cases are likely to be rare, and our old frineds of 1885-'89, who held up the government during those four years should accept the situation like patriots and philosophers, and make way for others who during the next four years may be depended upon to hold up the government with equal fidelity.

"Lock me up! For God's sake lock me up! I want protection from my wife. I am afraid that she will kill me!"

The strange visitor had the air of an insane man and Officer Lackey was not slow to do as he was asked and locked the man up without asking any questions. The man said his name was Madison Bowen and that he lived four miles east of the city on the Flat Shoals road.

lived four miles east of the city on the Flat Shoals road.

Bowen had been locked up but a few minutes when he was recognized as the man who had been sent to the police station during yesterday afternoon and who had been sent to the Grady hospital, as it was thought that he was suffering from brain fever. He was discharged after being kept at the hospital for two hours.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock Bowen was discovered in room 151 of the Kimball house. He was known to no one and Special Officer Martin was called in to bounce him out. He appeared to be in a sort of stupor and Officer Martin decided to send him to police headquarters, where he could receive the proper medical treatment. The man refused to talk and when he reached police headquarters Captain Thompson directed that he be sent to the hospital, which was done with the result stated.

Bowen was seen no more until he appeared at police headquarters last night and made his startling request of Turnkey Lackey. He was piaced in cell No. 1, where he dropped upon the floor and seemed to give way to a terrible agony of mind and body. He could not be persuaded to tell the cause of the trouble, which he had hinted existed between himself and his wife. He stated that he left his home four miles in the country about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon to come to Atlanta. He left on account of his wife. She had an extremely hot temper, he said, but when asked about the trouble between her and himself he cried out: "Til die before I'll tell. She threatened to kill me. I have six of as lovely children as ever lived."

In this disjointed fashion he continued to talk. He seemed to be suffering great mental agony.

The officers are puzzled over his case and hardly know what to make of it. Bowen

The officers are puzzled over his case and hardly know what to make of it. Bowen admitted that he had been drinking on yesterday, but long after he had grown sober last night his plight was as pitiful as it had been before.

confidence in his word and never doubted his integrity or his personal honor. He came to this city a number of years ago and was quite an old resident. He was identified with his people in every respect, and was loyal to the religion of his fathers. He was in the forty-eight year of his age at the time of his death.

The funeral will occur from his late residence this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The following gentlemen will act as palibearers: Messrs. Louis Gholstin, I. P. Harris, Dan Klein, William L. Bean, Simon Metger, L. Lieberman, Sig Well and L. Liebman, Sr. The interment will be made in Oakland cemetery.

"ZOZO," THE MAGIC OUEEN.

At Matinee and Night-You Can Go. At Matinee and Night—You Can Go.

The Brooklyn Daily Times said of it: "A large and appreciative audience witnessed the first production of "Zozo' last evening many there were who had been drawn out from idle curiosity through a mistaken impression that had gone abroad in regard to the character of the entertainment. That portion of the audience which expected to discover in "Zozo' anything that would offend the refined taste or cater to morbid appetites were beautifully disappointed. "Zozo' is a fairy tale, illustrated and embelished by a fancyful play writer, who has departed from the usual channel and actually given to the public something new, fresh, airy, wholesome the usual channel and actually given to the public something new, fresh, airy, wholesome and palatable to all lovers of amusement. Necessarily a spectacular production, "Zozo' depends largely upon its georgeous mountings and fine tableaux for the climaxes. This feature of last evening's entertainment was an innovation to our theatergoers, the transformation scenes together with the full stage set picturing in all its elegance, fairyland, were indeed a revelation. All in all, the company is far above our most sanguine expectations. The Times takes pleasure in recommending it as a most wholesome and enjoyable entertainment."

The people of Atlanta will be startled with

"Robin Hood."

The people of Atlanta will be startled with the excellence of material engaged in the opera of "Robin Hood." Miss Hamilton is an artist of great power, both in quality of voice and as an actress of splendid finesse. She sang the role of Maid Marion all through the New York run of "Robin Hood" at the Garden theater, and has made a distinct hit everywhere by her original methods. Mr. John Peachey, as Robin Hood, is the high baritone of the company. He sang the leading male role in "Dorothy" at the Lyric theater. London, durin its run of 401 nights. He is handsome, and an actor of considerable note abroad. Mr. Frank Pearson, well known in Atlanta, as a basso possessing a rich mellow voice, will impersonate Will Scarlett. Mr. Ed. W. D. Palprey is also well known in this city as a society young man of New Orleans who has made a mark on the stage with the Robin Hood Opera Company. He has a light tenor voice of pleasing quality. Miss Jennie Dickerson, late of the Carl Ross Opera Company of London, is the contraito. The balance of the cast is said to be worthy of all praise. The prices for this engagement is within the regular scale in order to give opportunity for all to hear this popular opera.

In the "Robin Hood" Company, which will visit Atlanta this week, there are two performers very well known in Atlanta. These are Mr. Frank Pearson and his wife. Mr. Pearson will be remembered as the finest voice and the best actor in the comic opera company at the Edgewood last summer. Miss Mand McIntyre, his wife, is also a prominent member of the company. Mr. Pearson has the role of Will Scarlet in the opera; Miss Mc-Intyre that of Annabel. The company is an exceedingly strong one. Miss Hamilton is one of the greatest comic opera women in the country. Miss Mary Palmer has a contraito voice which is described as wonderful. Miss Jennie Dickerson is another exceedingly clever woman, who, was one of the leading neople with the Karl Rosa Company are H. AT THE EDGEWOOD.

The Ricketts-Mathews Company begin their tenth week at the Edgewood tonight, presenting their first success, "Duvar." This play is considered to be strongest and best in this company's repertoire. It is replete with exciting situations and lots of comedy. CITY NOTES.

An attempt was made to wreck a Western and Atlantic passenger train near Adairsville last night. Some one placed a large log on the track and the train was thrown off, but fortunately no one was furt, as the engineer was enabled to control his machine. The officials of the road are making every effort to locate the would-be train wrecker.

Eloquent Sermons and Good Music All the Churches of the City. Synopsis of Sermons

The fine weather of yesterday brought out the people and good audiences were present at all the churches where services

First Christian Church. A large congregation gathered at this church yesterday morning. The services are congrega-tional, the singing and responsive readings are heartily participated in, the sermon is usually brief and every Lord's day the Lord's supper brief and every Lord's day the Lord's supporting a partaken of.

The subject of Mr. Williamson's sermon was the parable of the prodigal son or rather, as the preacher said, the parable of the good father.

"The parables, as Joseph Parker says, are the 'picture galleries of the church.' They are painted by the Master's hand—the hand that paints the rose and illy, perfumes the violet, burnishes the sun, makes blue the overhanging skies, marks the pathway of the stars and hollows out the bed of the pulsing ocean. We admire the glory of the heavens, the handlwork of the firmment, the robing of We admire the glory of the heavens, the handlwork of the firmament, the robing of the forests and the clothing of the earth, but more beautiful than these are the pictures which tell us of the provisions of our Father for our intellectual and spiritual wants.

"The young man in the parable represents the wayward child of God.

"The elder brother represents the Scribes and Pharisees, murmuring and complaining because the Savior received sinners.

"The Father represents God.

"I. Sin is selfish. The young man wanted his own. Selfishness is always sinful. Looking out for number one may be business, but when it is done at the expense of others it is not Christilke.

out for number one may be business, but when it is done at the excesse of others it is not Christike.

"2. Sin seeks freedom from restraint. This young man wanted to get away from his father's house and his father's coatrol. Boys wickedly inclined and selfish want, frequently to get away from home.

"3. Sin is self-indulgent and lustful. This young man spent his substance in riotous living. His manner of life is in the world today and in our city. Society's demands are injurious, dangerous, extravagant and sinful. Of course this young man had professing friends while his money lasted. These miserable parasites and leeches that suck the life blood while the money lasts and turn their backs upon the poor wretch who has wasted his substance in riotous living. As a consequence the poor, young prodigal came to want. Death stared him in the face. He was too homest to steal and too manly to beg, and so he went to work at the menial service of keeping swine. In this degraded position he came to himself. This was the sunburst through the clouds. This, the dawning of the day of redemption. Oh, young man, away from your father's house, come to yourselves, turn your faces homeward and you may yet be saved.

"The father represents God. He was looking for His lost son. God is not hard to being for His lost son. God is not hard to your faces homeward and you may yet be saved.

"The father represents God. He was looking for His lost son. God is not hard to be intreated. He does not have to be importuned to be reconciled to His erring children. He is waiting for them and longing for their return to their Father's house. While yet a 'great way off,' the Father recognized him. ran to meet him. kissed him and forgave him. called for a robe to cover his tattered garments, a ring to symbolize his affection and shoes to show that he should not be a servant but a son. How like our loving Father's love. Says Dr. Guthrie: "The sun that shines on you shall set, and summer streams shall freeze and deepest wells go dry, but not His love. His love is a stream that never freezes; a fountain that never fails; a sun that never sets at night; a shield that never breaks in fight; whom He loveth He loveth to the end."

At the invitation two ladies came forward to take membership with the concregation.

At the conclusion of the evening's service the ordinance of baptism was administered.

The weather was beautiful yesterday morn-

At the Catholic Church.

The weather was beautiful yesterday morning, and in consequence the congregation at the Catholic church was somewhat larger than usual. The sermon at high mass was preached by Father Schadewell, and although a very abort one was interesting and to the point. In the course of his sermon Father Schadewell said: "A great many hold that our Savior by his suffering did enough to redeem us forever, and that all we have to do is to rely upon Christ as our mediator, and all will be well. The Catholic church teaches as that man, a finite being, offended God, and of himself could do nothing towards patting away his sin. There are two actions and two wills in ran. One is the action and the will of God, and the other is the action and will of man. We will be saved if we act in accordance with the will and action of God. It is not sufficient for us to imagine that all we have to do is to awake when God shall send into us a lightness of feeling and a joyousness, for this feeling does not come to all. There is something that we must do. We must take up our cross and follow him. That one who simply leans upon his Savior and does nothing of himself will lose himself. Are we greater than the saints? Did they not take up their crosses and follow Christ through no matter what? At times there is a hull upon The weather was beautiful yesterday morn greater than the saints? Did they not take up their crosses and follow Christ through no matter what? At times there is a lull upon the sea and the sky is cloudless. The passengers rejoice and are gay. But the captain is a man of experience, and knows that a storm will soon sweep down upon them. He tells the passengers to retire to the cabin. All but one goes. Who is to blame if he insists upon staying on deck, wise in his ignorance, and is swept away? The church is the ship and Christ is at the helm. Faith without good works is dead, for St. James says that even the devils in hell believe, but are they saved?"

More Memorial|Church.

Very interesting services were held at this church yesterday morning. A large congregation greeted the pastor, who based his remarks, beseeching every one not to for-sake Jesus Christ, on the passage, "Thine own friend and thy father's friend forsake not." Prov. xxvii, 10.

The Central Presbyterian Church.

own friend and thy latiner's lifeting lossage not." The Central Presbyterian Church.

There was a very large cangregation at the Central Presbyterian church. The text of the sermon, which was by the pastor, was from the gospel of St. John vi, 68-68: "From that time many of his disciples went back and walked no more with him. Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away? And Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

Dr. Strickier said that this incident was just after the miracle of reeding the Inve thousand, when many followed him and wanted to make Him king, and when they learned the true nature of his mission, they and many others fell away from Him.

"There are many members of the church who fall away now; it is always to be expected. Let us inquire why it should be so. "Some say, it is because the church does not take proper care of its members. There is some truth in this, but it is not the real reason. No Christian ever fell off from this cause.

"Neither is it, as many think, because upon a closer acquaintance, they are driven away by the mysteries of the church. True Christianity has many mysteries. There is the mystery of the existence of evil in the world, when God, all wise, all loving and all powerful, could have kept it out; the mystery of Providence in that the good often suffer for being good and the wicked prosper for being wicked; there is the mystery of the double nature of Christ.

"But those who leave Christianity do not escape from these mysteries. Without Christianity, the mystery of the nature of God, all wise, all loving and all powerful, could have kept it out; the mystery of the double nature of Christ.

"But those who leave Christianity do not escape from these mysteries. Without Christianity, the mystery of the nature of God, all wise, all loving and all powerful, could have the providence in that the good often suffer for being wicked; there is the mystery of the double nature of Christ.

The cause of his death was typhoid fever.

No young man in Atlanta was better known toan Lee Hardin. Strong, athletic and handsome, he had the promise of many years before him. He was the very picture of health and robust manhood, and was prominent in all the sports and exercises that were natural to his years.

His popularity was the consequence of his genial and pleasant disposition. He acquired his friendships with a wonderful rapidity, and usually retained them without the least apparent effort. He had only to be natural in order to make himself attractive to his associates.

Graduating from the Boys High school about eight years ago, he entered immediately into business and was characterized by his close application and devotion to his work. Quiet and unassuming in his manners, he was also modest and thoroughly moral in his habits. At the time of his death he was in the employ of Mr. R. C. Black, the well known shoe dealer. In military circles Lieutenant Hardin was widely known. He was second lieutenant of the Grady Cadets, and was one of the most efficient officers in the company.

one of the most efficient officers in the company.

About two weeks ago he was taken ill. It was thought, however, that he would soon recover, and not until a few days prior to his death was it evident that the end was near at hand. He was perfectly conscious to the last and the end came peacefully at 9 o'clock, surrounded by the members of the household.

Lieutenant Hardin at the time of his death was in the twenty-fifth year of his age. The arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been completed. They will likely occur tomorrow and the interment will be made with military honors.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

Mrs. C. M. Bellingrath Passes Away at Her Home Yesterday Afternoon. Mrs. C. M. Bellingrath, one of the oldest residents of this city, died at the residence of her son, Mr. Albert Bellingrath, on Crew street, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Bellingrath had been in declining health for 'several weeks and her death, though a great bereavement to her family and many friends, was not altogether unexand many friends, was not altogether unexpected.

She was the mother of Mr. Albert Bellingrath and Mrs. Carl Harmsen, of this city. Within the last few months she has had the misfortune to lose two of her children.

Mrs. Bellingrath was a consistent member of the First Presbyterian church, with which organization she had been connected for many years. She came to this city before the war and was one of the oldest residents of Atlanta. She was born in Germany, in the province of the Rhine, on May the Sth, 1811. She was, therefore, eighty-two years old at the time-of her death. She had twenty-three grand children and two great grand-children.

The funeral will occur from the First Presbyterian church this afternoon and eight of her grandchildren will act as pallearers.

SOCIAL NOTES. The Starlight Pleasure Club held a very in-teresting meeting on last Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Langston, on McAfee street.

The occasion was one of the club's regular weekly meetings, and business relative to the club's interest was discussed. About 10 o'clock a very delicious menu was tastily served by the hostess, Mrs. Langston.

Atlanta, Ga., February 24, 1893... Messrs. Beck & Bacon, Agents for Dr Sanche's Electropoise "Victory," Atlan-Sanche's Electropoise victory, ta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I write to tell you the wonderful results obtained last night from 'Victory." I went home sick with a distressing cold and apagh, pains in my chest, and considerable feyer. My symptoms were very much like pnoamonia. I went to bed and applied "Victory." In half an hour I began to perspire, and was soon relieved of pains in my chest. I slept well all night, and got up this morning in my usual health. Respectfully,

HER PATHETIC LITTLE STORY.

A Home Provided for Her for the Present Until Something Can Be Done-Her Mother and Father Are Gone.

A minute after the Georgia Pacific train A limite after the Georgia Pacine train-pulled into the union depot yesterday morn-ing a little girl, wearing a red dress with cap to match and carrying a small bundle under her arm, walked timidly out upon the sidewalk alongside the depot building and gazed desparingly around her.

She seemed about to burst into tears when Patrolman Harper walked up and spoke to her. She told the kindly officer that her name was Mollie Arris and that she find no home, but was looking for her mother She handed the officer a letter addressed to Chief Connolly, which was from Mayor G. R. Hutchens, of Tallapoosa.

Patoriman Harper escorted the little girl to police headquarters, where she reported her short, sad story to Sergeant Jennings. She said that she was eight years old and She said that she was eight years old and that her father and mother were both living, but where they were no one knew. They had lived at Tallapoosa, where her father was engaged in the book agent business. He and her mother quarrelled and a separation ensued. The mother came to Atlanta and the father went somewhere also. She was left with the family of Mr. else. She was left with the family of Mr. John Rouke, where she remained until yesterday morning waiting for her mother or father to come or send for her. She did not hear from them, but Mr. Rouke learned that Mrs. Arris was living at 94 McAfee street, this city, and, turning her over to Mayor Hutchens, he requested that he send he where her mother lived.

Chief Connolly was not around headquarters, but Chief of Detectives Wright sent Detective Bedford to the house designated. Detective Bedford learned that Mrs. Arris had left the place and it was understood that she had gone to Cincinnati, O. The officer was told that she left last August. When this fearful news was told to the little girl she wept in a heart broken way and begged that some one take her to her mother. Chief Wright had a talk with Mrs. Nelson and arranged to have the little girl cared for at the Home for the Friendless until something can be done for her.

Mr. C. F. King, a well-known newspaper man, employed on the staff of The Atlanta Journal, writes as follows:

Atlanta Ga., March 9, 1893.—Messrs. Beek & Bacon, Agents for Dr. Sanche's Electropoise "Victory," 36 Grant Building, City.—Gentlemen: Our oldest child, Claude, has just been cured of a very severe case of ulcerated sore throat by three applications of Eelectropoise "Victory." This I regard as a very remarkable cure. The child had hardly eaten anything in a week. His throat, tongue and mouth were most terribly ulcerated and hourly growing worse. His fever at night was alarming. We applied Dr. Sanche's Electropoise "Victory" three times, using it about twelve hours in all. He had no more fever after the first application and began to improve rapidly. On the third day he had about completely recovered and played about the house as frolicsome as ever. We gave him no medicine. The same instrument cured me of the grip some days ago, with only two applications. This is simply a statement of plain facts. After seeing what the instrument has done for my family, I would be a fool not to believe in it. Yours truly, C. F. KING.

The undersigned have this day dissolved.

The undersigned have this day dissolved their relation as man and wife. Neither claims or believes any cause for divorce against the other, either upon scriptural or legal grounds. Having gradually discovered, what we did not know at the time of our marriage, that we did not and do not have that degree of mutual love essential to a happy union, and feeling that time widens rather than heals the breach, we believe it our duty to dissolve our marriage relations. We will, in future, regard ourselves as neither husband for wife, the one to the other, and neither will interfere with or, be responsible for the affairs of the other. IN A GAME OF CARDS

RECEPTION Two Young White Men Fall Out, and One Receives Terrible Wounds

WHICH MAY RESULT IN HIS DEATH.

His Assailant Locked Up, Charged with Intent to Murder-Different Stories Told by the Young Men.

A drunken row over a game of cards be tween two young men may result in the death of Ben Marshall, a young man twenty-one years old, who lives with his widowed mother at 25 Lucy street.

In the row Marshall received two dangerous stabs which the physicians who are gerous stabs which the physicians who are attending him regard as exceedingly dangerous. The knife which inflicted the probably fatal wounds was handled by Richard Johnson, a young man about Marshall's own age, who resides with his parents on Edgewood avenue. Johnson is now a prisoner at the police station under a charge of assault with intent to murder.

The first occurred in the woods near

The fight occurred in the woods near Edgewood late Saturday night, and Johnson was arrested on the Air-Line railroad early yesterday morning by Sergeant Brenning and Patrolmen Marshall and Heard. It is supposed that he was fixing to skip when arrested.

Different stories are told of the difficulty by Johnson and Marshall. After being cut Marshall was allowed to make a statement of how the row started to Patrolman Harris, as it was thought that his wounds would prove fatal.

Marshall told Officer Harris that Johnson, Dock Chosewood, Doctor Snyder and himself went out to the open field near Edgewood Saturday night, carrying with them a light luncheon, plenty of liquid refreshments, etc., intending to have a time of it. They established themselves on the ground and began playing "noses," a game at cards in which the winner has the privilege of slapping his vanquished opponent on the nose. They played for quite a time, drinking and eating between games, and the time passed merrily away. Game after game was played, and midnight drew near al-most before they were aware of its approach. By this time they were pretty full of whisky and were in pugilistic moods.

It appears that Marshall was the winner in one game and he took advantage of the privilege of the victor by giving young Johnson a smart blow across the olfactory apparatus. The blow was a stinging one and paratus. The blow was a stinging one and angered Johnson. He resented it by striking Marshall in return. Then Marshall struck Johnson with a small hickory stick. The blow incensed Johnson terribly, and, drawing his knife, he made a furious lunge at Marshall. He drove the blade deep into the young man's breast, and pulling out the crimson, dripping instrument he made a second plunge at him and drove it in again.

the crimson, dripping instrument he made a second plunge at him and drove it in again.

They were separated and Johnson left. Chosewood and Snyder were left alone with the injured man. They picked him up and started with him to the city. It was near midnight when they reached the city, and Drs. Johnson and Murphey were called. They found Marshall wounded badly in two places. One cut is on the left side immediately beneath the scapula. It is a gash about three inches long. The left lung is cut for about the length of half an inch. The other wound is about an inch above the left hip, and is about two and a half inches long. The physicians consider the wounds as being extremely dangerous.

Johnson says that they were playing cards, but there was no game of noses. Marshall got mad about something and struck him and threatened him with a knife. They had two difficulties. He says they were drinking and that he has no ill feeling against the injured man. Marshall is employed in The Constitution mailing rooms, and is known as a very industrious young man. He has no father, and lives with his widowed mother on Lücy street. Johnson has no regular employment. His father is a collector. Marshall's condition is regarded as very serious by Drs. Murphey and Johnson.

There is a great margin between the stock of Piece Goods and the exhibition. For one beautiful novelty that is seen there are scores upon the counters unseen.

Another difficulty confronts us—the standard we have set for our own displays. It is hard to compare them with themselves. And the shows of past seasons have been so far beyond any competing demonstration that it is hard to make still further improvement. But progress there must be, for there is no health without growth. And progress there is.
